

Prajwal Tidke

Link to Course - <https://sdsu.instructure.com/courses/162125>

Definition of Big Data - As I understand it, Big Data involves collecting data from various sources, whether structured or unstructured, such as databases, Excel files, ledgers, flat files, and/or raw data dumps, into a single location. This combined data can then be used to generate insights for businesses or other analytical purposes.

